EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

A cartoonist publicized "embarrassing moments," such as all of us from time to time have experienced with rubicund countenances. Such moments are bound to occur in every life and every business, but I wonder just how certain publishers will feel, when, despite repeated denials, ostensibly from official sources, the truth comes to light? Will they ignore the developments and if not, on what ground will they explain to their readers their course in misleading them as to the true state of affairs?

NOT PLEASANT

It falls to the lot of every publisher to be beaten to the news occasionally by the opposition. It is a situation not relished, but must be faced just the same with as good a grace as possible. Purported interviews with public officials denying the truth of a story, when the sole purpose of publishing the pseudo denial is to "save their face," after being scooped, is poor business. When the facts are finally made public and the paper which has frantically endeavored to discredit the story is forced to publish it, it is a wonder just how it feels and its face red.

Which reminds me that the process of backing up, I notice, is already in motion.

TRIAL BY DREAMS

A story comes from Uniontown, Pennsylvania, of a criminal jury accepting "a vision" as evidence and convicting two men on charges of robbery, but we would hardly recommend the procedure to the district attorney.

Judge Johnson Raises Bail Of Three Defendants

MARTINEZ, Jan. 21.—After the prosecuting witness had given his testimony today in the rape case in which Henry Hightman of Albany is the defendant, Judge T. D. Johnston dismissed the jury for the afternoon, but asked the attorneys to remain as he had a matter of importance to take up with them.

The court told the attorneys that after hearing the testimony of the complaining witness, he was not satisfied with the bail bond that had been put up by the defendant, neither was he satisfied with the bail bonds of Homer Wightman and Stella May Kirke, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The defendant's bail was raised from $1,000 to $3,000 and in the companion case the bail raised from $300 to $500. In default of bail all defendants were remanded to the custody of the sheriff, pending the furnishing of new bonds.

After the jury was selected, Dorothy McCassey, a 14-year old Albany school girl took the stand and told a very convincing and detailed story of what was alleged to have taken place on the night of October 13th last at an apartment house on Eighth street in Richmond.

As a result of the alleged attack, the defendant was arrested, and his brother Homer and Stella May Kirke were taken into custody on the minor charge.

The case will be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Among those on the jury from Richmond are Mrs. Mae Mathos, Mrs. Marie Grantham, and Edward Helzen. The prosecution is being handled by District Attorney Francis Healey, and his deputy Harold Jacoby, and attorneys Will S. Robinson and Ross Corey represent the defendant.

POSSE GIVEN COMMAND TO SHOOT FIRST

MONROE, Mich., Jan. 22.—UP—Possemen deployed on Michigan highways tonight with orders to shoot to kill the notorious Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell. The car in which the outlaws fled from Ohio was found abandoned six miles south of here today.

Officers were searching every house and farm in the vicinity of La Salle where the car was left in the middle of Dixie highway with the motor running.

CAR IDENTIFIED

It was identified by the motor numbers and license as that of Dr. Horace Hunsicker, Allentown, Pa., who was forced by the two men to accompany them for hours through Pennsylvania and Ohio. Hunsicker was released in Ohio last night.

Dell Clark, who found the car, said he saw a man leave the car. Sheriff Joseph Harley summoned Department of Justice agents at Detroit and State police.

BLOCK ROADS

Highways around Monroe were blocked off by State police who halted all automobiles. Officers were armed with machine guns.

The automobile, a sedan, carried Pennsylvania license plates. No blood stains were found, although federal agents believed Campbell had been wounded in the Atlantic City running gun battle. The car contained some books and two suitcases.

House Revolt Starts Over Relief Bill Is Suppressed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—UP—Administration leaders tonight suppressed a house revolt by Congressmen lured by the political "pork" possibilities in the $4,800,000 work relief bill.

Victory was won, however, at the price of concessions permitting amendments to three sections of the bill. Original plans had been to jam the bill through without permitting amendments and with debate limited to three hours.

TRUCE REACHED

The truce, reached at a Democratic caucus binding the party to united action, clears the way for consideration of the measure tomorrow.

Under the concessions representatives may offer amendments to:

1.—A section giving the president power to continue for one year the life of government agencies such as the NRA.

EXERCISE RIGHT

2.—A section permitting him to exercise the right of domain in acquiring property for public construction projects.

3.—A section providing stringent penalties—fines up to $5,000 and prison terms up to two years—for violation of rules prescribed by the president.

But amendments will not be permitted earmarking the vast fund for specific purposes in Congressmen's home districts.

DEMAND PWA END

One of the sections to which amendments will be permitted is a provision permitting Roosevelt to postpone until June 30, 1937, the expiration dates of various emergency agencies.

This will permit Congressmen increased at Public Works Administration Harold L. Ickes to demand liquidation of the PWA. This June Ickes' method of dispensing jobs under PWA has angered many Congressmen unable to get jobs for constituents. The insurgents, however, are not expected to succeed.

The day was devoted to delving into the affairs of the county social service department, the work being done under the direction of Deputy District Attorney Rex Boyd.

A number of witnesses had been subpoenaed, and among those called was Mrs. Iona Booth.

Despite denials the office of the district attorney is making a close scrutiny of the records seized in the Richmond office last week.

J. R. VICKERS, George Rudy, Miss Alice Noyes and Eleanor Nelson spent the week-end at Yosemite.

Building, Loan Investigation Now Under Way

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 22.—UP—A special assembly committee began its investigation of building and loan association activities today when it heard 20 witnesses testify concerning offers of companies to purchase their deposit books at only a fraction of the value.

The committee was particularly interested to determine whether building and loan associations or their holding companies have been buying up pass books at from 32 to 50 cents on the dollar, as charged by some depositors.

Nineteen of the witnesses said they were offered only 50 to 54 percent of the face value of their deposits when they sought full payment.

The second of a series of hearings will be held in Oakland tomorrow.

Clyde Stevens Is Given 22 Years In Pen

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—UP—Clyde Stevens, bank robber and admitted arch-plotter of the recent San Quentin prison break, entered Folsom prison tonight to serve not less than 22 years and a maximum of life under his pleas of guilty to three bank robbing charges.

Judge Lyle T. Jacks sentenced Stevens to 10 years to life on each robbery count. He has four years and seven months additionally to serve on the sentence from which he was paroled at San Quentin prison, and which he now must complete due to violation of the parole.

The law was not yet through with Stevens, however, inasmuch as Marin county district attorney, Albert Dingshow, has announced he will have Stevens returned for trial on charges of aiding four convicts in the San Quentin break. Dingshow said he would seek the death penalty for Stevens and the three convicts who survived the affair, Fred Lenders, Alex McKay and Joe Kristy.

Sheered of all bravado, Stevens trembled as he made his guilty pleas, and his voice scarcely could be heard in the courtroom.

Albert Kissell, indicted with Stevens on the robbery charges, probably will plead Friday. He was in hospital today recovering from a finger amputation necessitated by wounds suffered when he was captured with Stevens last Thursday, near Antioch.

Stevens' minimum time in jail was computed on possible allowance for good behavior.

Film Players Escape Death In Snow Trap

BELLINGHAM, Jan. 22.—UP—A report from snowbound Mount Baker lodge today said that Myron Reeves, electrician, and three women employees of the Twentieth Century Picture Company on location there, were recovering from near-asphyxiation.

The four were overcome by carbon monoxide gas from a generating motor Monday during filming of Jack London's story, "Call of the Wild."

State highway patrolmen started toward the lodge with a pump motor and oxygen tanks. They were halted by snow and ice at Glacier, half way to the lodge. New snow today trapped them and they were unable to proceed in either direction.

The film players, including Loretta Young, Clark Gable and Jack Oakie, have provisions for a week. If heavy snowstorms continue they may face privation.

San Pablo Home Damaged By Fire

Fire caused by a defective flue damaged the William Green home on Road No. 7, in San Pablo yesterday, and completely destroyed a closet of clothing.

The blaze started under the roof, burned through and dropped into a closet.

Neighbors summoned the San Pablo fire department, which quickly extinguished the blaze. The loss was estimated at about $100.

HAUPTMANN TO TESTIFY ON THURSDAY

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 22.—UP—Bruno Richard Hauptmann, a silent figure in gray, provided the muddy lanes that cut through the Sourland Mountains for a fortnight before the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped. Two more witnesses swore today.

It was the third time that a witness has climbed the two steps to the rickety witness chair to testify that Hauptmann, like a bandit, preparing a surprise attack, reconnoitered the scene of the nation's most notorious crime.

SAW BRUNO

Down out of the Sourlands today, his face, scrubbed shining clean and his neck, came Miller Whitted to tell in a jersey drawl that he saw Hauptmann twice in February, 1932, on the road to the Lindbergh home. The kidnap occurred March 1, 1932.

It was a bad day in court for the kangaroo woodland. Before he got through Hauptmann's lawyers tore gaping holes in his testimony, laughed at him in open court and sent him back into the hills, a simple man bewildered by the strange patterns into which the English language can be twisted.

STORY UNSHAKEN

Charles Rossiter fared better. He left the witness chair, unshaken in his story that he saw Hauptmann near the Princeton Airport on the Saturday before the kidnaping, two wheels of his automobile in a ditch at the side of the road.

These two men, one a dweller in crowded places and the other the kind of person who knows all the neighbors for miles around, agreed on one point with old Amundus DeMouth. It was Hauptmann, 27 years old and a veteran of the World War, who testified earlier in the trial that at noon on the day of the kidnaping Hauptmann drove through Hopewell in

Asked if flights will be made from Los Angeles Tripp said it was not certain that improvements in the harbor, proposed by Mayor Frank N. Shaw, could be completed in time for the flights. Pan American engineers have submitted Shaw an outline of requirements necessary to permit operation of ocean type flying boats from Los Angeles harbor.

LINDY MENTIONED

SEALS DICKER FOR SERVICES LEFTY O'DOUL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—UP—Charles Graham, president of the San Francisco Seals, conferred today with Frank J. O'Doul of the New York Giants, for whom services he is angling, but expressed unwillingness to meet the price asked for the former San Francisco outfielder.

O'Doul, manager of the Giants, has reportedly offered to sell O'Doul for $4,000. Both Graham and O'Doul claim, however, that Terry has no right to make the sale. O'Doul has been more than ten years in major league and can not be sold to a minor league club without his consent.

Graham, who hopes to acquire O'Doul's services as manager of the Seals for the coming season, says that even if he paid Terry's price, O'Doul would then be a free agent and would have to be given another contract.

O'Doul wishes to be given either an outright release by the Giants, he said, or have his present contract renewed. If released, he said, he would be willing to manage the Seals.

BEARS HAVE A PROBLEM ON THEIR HANDS

BERKELEY, Jan. 22.—The California basketball team settled down today to the study of a problem: How to stop the kind of Trojan sharpshooters, Leo Gutters, Jack Hupp and Ernie Holbrook and, at the same time, win a couple of half games.

Right now Coach C. M. "Nip" Price and the Bears don't know the answer, but the chances are strong that the Bears who have come so far and so fast in the past month of cage warfare will be closer to a solution of the problem by the week-end, when they meet the defending champions Friday and Saturday night at California gym.

Gutters and Hupp are at present engaged in a duel for Conference scoring honors, with Hupp taking a one-point lead over his rubber-legged teammate over the week-end. Hupp's total for the three league games played to date is 39 points, Gutters' 38. The other member of the triumvirate, Holbrook, is in seventh place on the scoring table with 20 points.

California athletic authorities today prepared for capacity crowds both nights, as it appeared that the Bear-Trojan meeting might very well decide the outcome of the race for honors in the southern division. While California gym seats 7,200 spectators, only 1,000 seats will be set aside each night for sale to the general public. The remaining seats will be taken by student rooters, it is expected.

California's surprising showing of strength against Stanford and Santa Clara last week-end has brought the Bears into the position of being the strongest challenger to the Trojans' hoop supremacy. The Bears defeated the Indians 35 to 31 and overpowered the Broncos, who had previously won two games with ease by a lopsided 46 to 17 score. Comparing the Bears and Trojans on the basis of past scores, it appears that the coming games should be closely contested, although basketball doesn't always run true to form. The Trojans won an early game from the Broncos by two points, 24 to 22, but lost the second game, 31 to 24, and had some difficulty in downing the cross-town rivals, UCLA, last week. The Bears dropped two games to Santa Clara early in the season but won with ease last Saturday; they divided two games with UCLA and defeated Stanford.

Factors which Bear followers hope may give the Blue and Gold forces a chance against Troy are their aggressive floor game which bore fruit in innumerable "thefts" of the ball from Indian and Bronco forwards, their scoring ability from the foul line which gave them 21 points on free throws out of 31 attempts in two games, plus the sharp-shooting of Ray Olson and Jack Kopke, the two regular forwards, and Captain Dave Meek, center.

King Of Siam May Sell Out And Abdicate

BANGKOK, Siam, Jan. 22.—Possibility of King Prajadhipok's abdication grew stronger today when it was learned that he threatened to sell all his Siamese possessions.

The little monarch now is in England, where a mission was sent recently to attempt to patch up the strained, growing from an act limiting his powers over the life of his subjects.

Prajadhipok owns several gorgeous palaces and much land. His property yields an annual income of about $1,500,000.

FRENCH ARMY HUNTS SLAYERS OF 97 PEOPLE

PARIS, Jan. 22.—(AP)—French officials led 200 active soldiers and special police officers into the German hinterland today to hunt for an alleged assassin who had slain 97 persons on the French frontier, including the French administrator, Albert Bernard.

Dispatches from Paris reported the French government had announced it had ordered a "large-scale" hunt in the German frontier region for the assassin of Bernard. The hunt was said to be a result of the French government's determination to bring the assassin to justice.

DEPRESSION'S END IS SEEN BY U. S. CHIEF

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—UP—Forward strides in business continue to cheer a Wall Street uneasy about current instability of security markets.

One of the most cheering business items came today from President Henry I. Harriman of the United States Chamber of Commerce. Speaking in Pittsburgh, he forecast the end of the depression this year basing the conclusion on the fact that major depressions usually go through six cycles and that this depression will be six years old this fall.

"Already there is a notable revival in the durable goods industries," he said. "One steel man here told me that operations will be at 75 per cent of capacity within a few months."

This added to cheerful items during the day from individual traders and industries included were:

A compilation by the American Iron and Steel Institute that steel companies in 1935 will spend around $125,000,000 modernizing equipment.

Observation by the American metal market that the trend in steel production in the next three or four months will continue upward.

The Chicago district today reported a 60 per cent of production capacity compared with 55 per cent last week.

More Sources Of Revenue Will Be Tapped By State

In lieu thereof for state purposes based on weight and value, the raising $25,000,000 "without increasing the tax load on the individual automobile owner."

TO AID JOBLESS: Unemployment relief: Provide a fund of $47,500,000 for unemployment relief, the money to be used exclusively in a public work program. Funds to be raised as follows:

One cent additional tax on gasoline, $23,000,000; three percent consumers' tax on gas, electricity, telephone, telegraph and other utility services, $16,000,000; tobacco tax of two cents per package of 20 cigarettes and 10 percent on other products.

Other recommendations made by the governor included the following:

MORE PRISONS NEEDED: Prisons and Institutions: "The recent prison break at San Quentin has served to focus public attention on deplorable conditions due to overcrowding. It is my prayerful hope that with the aid of the legislature we may immediately begin the work of sensible prison reform, including segregation not only of first offenders but of different types of offenders. A major prison should be constructed in Southern California as soon as a proper site can be acquired."

New Departments: "The many separate agencies of the State government concerned with the protection and safety of our citizens can be rendered far more efficient if their services are coordinated. To this end the creation of a department of public safety, into which department should be transferred the California Highway patrol, Division of Motor Vehicle registration, bureau of criminal identification, detective license bureau, division of narcotic enforcement, board of prison terms and paroles, the State parole department, the State board of prison directors and the State capital police is recommended."

Water and Power Commissions: "The appointment of a commission of from nine to 15 members to investigate the State's water and power program is recommended to be composed of citizens of California, appointed by the governor and authorized to investigate the feasibility and desirability of the acquisition by the State of California of the electric power generating and distributing facilities now under both private and public ownership within the State."

Water: "The Central Valley Water Project has been carefully planned to meet the needs of two great valleys, and it fulfills in all its aspects the practical principles declared by President Roosevelt to be the necessary foundation for a successful program of work relief. For many years I have been in complete sympathy with this project and I am in favor of its early construction."

Highways: "I recommend abandonment of the present dual system of State and county roads and inclusion of all highways into a single State system, whereby greater economy in construction and maintenance may be assured."

Walnut Creek, Jan. 22.—UP—Discovery of several sticks of dynamite wrapped in gingham cloth near the mouth of the highway tunnel, now under construction between Alameda and Contra Costa counties, was reported tonight.

Mannuel Serpa, a tunnel worker, made the reported find. No dynamite has been in use on the project. Authorities opened an investigation of reported labor troubles on the job which will employ 300 men and cost $2,000,000.

EPIC PROGRAM STIRS BATTLE IN ASSEMBLY

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 22.—UP—Millions of dollars in mortgage property hung in the balance today as California's Lower House staged its first major battle of the 51st Legislative session.

Former Epic enthusiasts, regular Democrats and Progressive Republicans swung behind a bill introduced by William Moseley Jones, Los Angeles borough leader, to extend and make more liberal provisions of a mortgage moratorium act.

Jones' measure competed with the proposed by Jefferson Fryer of San Francisco, and after more than two hours of lively argument and bickering on the floor, the Fryer bill was deferred and Jones' proposal was adopted by unanimous vote.

The act, which now goes to the Senate, would extend the moratorium until February 1, 1937, preventing foreclosures on mortgages and deeds of trusts and relieving those who are delinquent in taxes and interest by taking both debtor and creditor into superior court. The court would determine from income of the property what the debtor should pay yearly, both as interest and as redemption of the principal.

Fryer's bill merely would continue for one year the present form of moratorium, expiring February 1, which prevents foreclosure so long as interest is paid on the principal and all taxes and assessments are paid to date.

Sidetracking of the Fryer measure and approval of Jones' bill was regarded by legislators as a victory for the liberal element.

Reorganization of honor regulations, unemployment relief suggestions and additional revenue, and taxation measures were included among the flood of bills that descended in both Houses today.

Increased taxes on beer and wine and a state tax on hard liquor were proposed in a bill sponsored by Assemblymen E. V. Latham and Frank W. Wright. The authors estimated $10,329,000 could be raised biennially by taxing dry wines and beer five cents, sweet wine 10 cents and spirits 40 cents a gallon. At present, wine and beer is taxed two cents a gallon.

MASS MURDERS ARE CHARGED TO MAN, WIDOW

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 22.—UP—A theory of mass murder, in which four members of a family were killed by the medieval method of arsenic poisoning, was held by authorities tonight.

Charges of murder were filed late today against Mrs. Dora Bullock Frost, 36, widow of one of the victims, and mother of the other three. The charges accused her of poisoning Woodrow Bullock, her 17 year old son, who died June 1, 1934.

Charges of murder also were filed against George Frost, 49, former insurance agent, who married Mrs. Frost four months after her first husband, James W. Bullock, 43, died March 2, 1934. The Frosts since have separated.

Although the charges concerned only Woodrow's death, Assistant District Attorney Allie Peyton said that investigation showed traces of arsenic in the viscera of Jones Bullock and two other children, Vernon, of Bullock, who died July 16, 1932, when he was 16 months old, and Leola Bullock, 16, who died last New Year's Day.

Leola's body contained "enough arsenic to kill half a dozen people," Peyton said.

Both Mrs. Frost and her estranged second husband denied the charges made against them.

"God knows I didn't do it," Mrs. Frost cried.

A physician, Dr. F. B. Gooch, was credited by Peyton with unearthing the apparant slayings.

Dr. Gooch was one of the physicians who attended Leola. When he found that the hospital where the girl died had not reported the fact that arsenic caused her death, Dr. Gooch made a personal report to Peyton.

Anglim's Bill Is Passed By Senate

Word was received here last night by Attorney Michael Dowling, legal partner of Clifford Anglim, the latter district director for the northern district of California of the Federal Housing Administration that the State Senate passed the bill, introduced at the request of Anglim, calling for co-operation of the State of California with the national housing act.

The bill authorizes saving and commercial banks, insurance companies, personal finance companies, building and loan associations and certain other financial organizations to make loans which are insured by the provisions of the national housing act.

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 22.—UP—In a move calculated to consolidate its position in the area, the Golden Queen Mining Company, purchaser of the rich Silver Queen mine in the Mojave desert south of here, today purchased four adjacent claims for $199,000.

It was expected that the claims bought from Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Campbell, would be developed in connection with the Silver Queen.

WASHINGTON RAINS BRING FLOOD FEARS

SEATTLE, Jan. 22.—UP—Torrential rains following the heaviest snowfall of the year increased dangers from flood and slides in the Pacific Northwest today.

Deep snow in the mountains continued to fall its toll in lives. Donald Higgins was found dead and his companion unconscious in the cab of a truck stalled in snow on Snoqualmie Pass. They had sought to keep warm by running the motor and were overcome by carbon monoxide gas.

SEEK RESCUE

Mountain guides pushed through deep snow of the upper Toutle country on Mt. St. Helens to rescue Mr. and Mrs. Max Higgins. George Brunk and a companion from a snowbound inn 13 miles from Spirit Lake. They were believed without food.

The most serious threat of floods was in the lowland areas adjacent to Tliewater, where high tides lashed by southwest gales backed up to meet the rushing freshets.

MUCH RAIN

Grays harbor conditions were acute, following 5.25 inches of rain in 24 hours and no cessation in sight. Aberdeen and Hoquiam streets were inundated.

Two men clinging to pilings at Marfetta were rescued by deputy sheriffs from racing waters of the Nooksack river. Ice breaking in the river threatened destruction of bridges. Many highways in the Bellingham area were inundated, traffic halted. Wire communications were out in places.

GALE REPORTED

Astoria, Ore., had three inches of rain in 17 hours and a gale which started late Sunday had not dropped below 40 miles an hour. A rapid thaw in the inland empire region was reported from Spokane, where the mercury rose 63 degrees in two days from the lowest point in 36 years, 18 degrees below zero.

MUD SLIDES

Mud slides in Seattle buried 10 automobiles and five houses. Sylvanus Lindrill, 62, was dug out of a slide by firemen and was injured seriously.

Telephone communications a railroad service between Seattle and Vancouver, B. C., were suspended. A freight train was dug out and ice and snow slide at Rock summit of the Cascades.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

By O. N. CHRISMAN, M.D.

Shortness of Breath May Be Due to Over-Eating Although We All Hate to Admit This

I MENTIONED yesterday that shortness of breath is one of the accompaniments of having too much food inside of us. I am sure to get inquiries about this, so I may as well make myself clear. We really do not appreciate the privilege of being able to fill our lungs with full volumes of air until something interferes with our doing it.

Obviously, being the short-sighted creatures that we are, we do not bother about any of the things that are likely to make us suddenly find ourselves hampered in a process we have been taking for granted. We are always loathe to admit that we could possibly be to blame when this happens.

We enjoy a good appetite and we indulge it. We put on a few too many pounds of weight, but we "feel all right." This simple matter of overeating is the most frequent cause of shortness of breath. The plentiful space allowed in our anatomy for the heart and lungs to expand in their work is crowded by an over-full stomach.

Also, there are undigestible portions of food and liquid which the overworked stomach cannot get rid of. As a result, gases are formed which still further distend the stomach and encroach upon the breathing space.

FOLKS whose indiscretions bring this discomfort frequently have pain, and it is naturally found in the upper part of the chest. Of course, their first concern is a fear lest they have heart trouble. Most of them would rather say they have heart trouble than admit that they are guilty of overeating. In a sense, the heart is really endangered, but the treatment must be directed to other functions.

This same dangerous pressure is occasioned when we hurry about our work, especially if our work takes us up steps or any sort of incline. There are two reasons for this. When one is overweight, the muscles are required at every step to lift an extra burden. This in turn requires the heart pump to work with greater force and at faster speed.

In the second place, this form of distress is suffered most frequently by those who take so little exercise that their muscles are flabby. The heart must do the extra work in any effort.

There are a variety of reasons why the heart is overworked. One is that they usually feel like sloths now and then. For those who are naturally of a nervous disposition, any particular effort to hurry brings about a general constipation of all the nerve centers.

IN THESE cases, self-control and discretion are needed more than any sort of medicine. You don't really save time by so much hurry. You may have to spend much more later in trying to recuperate.

My father had a way of saying, "Wait till your hurry is over." When we are discouraged, we go about with our heads down and our shoulders slumped. Thus the air space is cramped and our intake of fresh air is lessened. That is the reason why it does you good to go out where you feel you must breathe up your head.

It means that a fresh supply of oxygen really makes a difference in the atmosphere for us. The true reason for shallow or short breathing must not be overlooked. Obstructed air passages, the presence of disease in the heart and lungs, delinquent kidneys and various infections have their effects on the breathing.

A chronic habit of sighing is usually due to a limited supply of oxygen and frequent sighing means only a partial or partial disposition. In any case, it should be overcome. The system needs a full portion of life-giving ozone.

Guide to Charm BEAUTY HELPS MAKE PERFECT HOLIDAY GIFTS

By JACQUELINE HUNT

IF YOU want to give precious, useful gifts this Christmas—gifts that will bring happiness—try something for beauty. Just a tiny gift that costs a few cents can bring priceless courage and confidence and renewed faith to lonely women tucked away on remote little farms and home-steads.

Even the woman who can afford to surround herself with lovely things seldom has too many beauty aids for her dressing table. And if you want to make her your friend for life give her the schoolgirl something that will make her prattler and more sure of herself.

Really there is something fragrant and useful in the beauty line for every member of your family, and best of all, these gifts are inexpensive and so personal.

See that you have at least one gift of this sort for the toe of each Christmas stocking. You will have to put a little time into the selection of these gifts, but the pleasure that they give will more than repay your effort.

For grandmothers, a mother there is eau de cologne, a pretty little bottle of her favorite perfume, or fragrant bath sachets to tuck into her handkerchiefs. Then there are the real little gift boxes including lavender scented face powder, soap and toilet water, and sometimes even grandmothers appreciate pretty lipsticks and little pots of rouge.

The college or business girl will appreciate one of the lovely manicure kits containing all that anyone could possibly need for a perfect manicure. The youthful perfumes that breathe romance and moonlight in containers that are an asset to any dressing table, and there are say compact that any girl would be proud to display at a party.

If you know a woman's beauty needs well enough you can give even more practical things. There are sets made up of cleansing cream, skin tonic and nourishing cream made by reliable houses. Include a cellophane package of cleansing tissues and do the whole set in gay tissue paper and big ribbon bows.

There are many women who would appreciate a good music box for correcting fine lines on their throats and around the eyes. It is rather more expensive than some other beauty items, but it will be gratefully received by one who needs it. Include a patzer or one of the little fancy gadgets that can be filled with ice water and used to massage the skin.

Do not sacrifice quality for economy in selecting your cosmetic gifts. The very best are reasonably priced and they will go a long way. If you find that some item on your list costs more than you anticipated, substitute something entirely different rather than take a cheaper article.

There are many other things for Dad and the children—for the children—for the bathroom and for the guest room.

Miss Lenroot, New Head of Children's Bureau, Is The Daughter of Former Senator Lenroot, And She's a Republican

PRESENTED ROOSEVELT has shown several times that when it comes to making political appointments he is not much swayed by party expediency, and now he has done it again by appointing Miss Katherine F. Lenroot, a Republican, as chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor. She succeeds Miss Grace Abbott, who has resigned.

Miss Lenroot is the daughter of former Senator Irving L. Lenroot, who is present a judge of the Customs and Patent Court of Appeals. She was born at Superior, Wisconsin, March 8, 1891. In 1912 she was graduated from the University of Wisconsin, and a year later was appointed a deputy of the State Industrial Commission.

She remained in this place until 1914, when she resigned in order to join the staff of the U. S.

Children's Bureau. Being assigned to the Social Service Division, she was its assistant director until June, 1931. Her particular field here was to make studies of provision for dependent children and of methods of juvenile court administration. For a year she was also director of the editorial division.

Miss Lenroot represented the United States at the Fifth and Sixth Pan-American Child Congresses, and is an active member of the council of the International American Institute for the Protection of Childhood. She has also served as a member of the White House Conference on child health and protection. Other committee work includes representation on such organizations as the Child Welfare League of America, the American Association of Social Workers, and the National Conference of Social Work.

Artificial Flowers Make Splendid Gifts As Useful Adjuncts to Evening Costume

A VARIED STORY OF EVENING WEAR

Copyright, 1934, by Faltrecht.

By IRENE VAIL
New York — Why not say it with flowers—artificial ones—this Christmas?

Paris has suggested a revival of flowers not in favor for some time, and indicated new ways of wearing them. Roses for instance, black pansies, violets, orange blossoms, apple blossoms. Among the "big four" from point of view of numbers are mentioned roses, violets, chrysanthemums and gardenias.

Mainbocher's group of flower-tinted chiffon gowns with matching flowers and fruit trimmings have been greatly admired. Schiaparelli fastens an unusual apron of contrast onto the front of a gown, with a necklet of gardenias. She also uses the single shoulder ring of gardenias as a decoration on another frock.

Away Rouff poses two big bunches of violets at either side of a "horn" drape at the center front of a high neckline. Patou uses various flower trimmings. Illustrated are several formal costumes showing the great variety both as regards types and fabrics that exists in evening fashions this season.

The dress at the extreme left is an 1860 type, developed in turquoise blue taffeta. The drop-shoulder line, puffed sleeves, and movement at the back with fullness emanating from a high line, are interesting details.

The next costume, an evening ensemble, is developed in creamy white satin, the collar and cuffs treated with cordings that make a pleasant decorative touch.

The seated figure wears a dress fashioned of white taffeta with mirrors applied in discreet fashion, giving a smart gleam to the frock.

You and Your Child REGULAR HOUR FOR BEDTIME IS BEST FOR CHILD

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

EVERY night of late it has been the same story. Robert refuses to get undressed for bed and he won't go to bed. And while mother is busy fussing with him, dad seems to think it good sport. "He's afraid he'll miss something," he says.

Dad is right. Robert does not want to miss anything. It is hard for a wakeful child to accept the idea of sleep. Even when tired or sleepy, he does not exactly relish the idea of going to sleep. For so long as he is awake he is aware and expectant. He is enjoying life. Sleep puts an end to all that.

A child should have a regular hour for retirement. This usually does away with needless fussing. For if a child is in the habit of going to bed at a given hour every night, he begins to feel sleepy just around bedtime. Unless—and many parents overlook this point—unless, we are trying to enforce a longer sleeping stretch than he needs.

While all children require plenty of sleep, all children's needs are not the same. Robert is three and a half and his mother still thinks that he needs eleven or twelve hours sleep. Yet many of the baldest facts in print and to discussion of topics which in previous generations would not have been generally taken up, even among the most sophisticated.

MODERN WOMEN

By MARIAN MATS MARTIN

The Youthful Clan Should Be Encouraged to Make Friends That Can Be Brought Home

ADOLESCENT youth has always presented a problem to those who have forgotten what that period in their lives brought to them. Besides, conditions constantly changing make each generation's problems more or less individual. Or at least so it seems. After all, it may be only the same old-old problems presented differently. Temptations take on new guises. It sometimes seems that what is a temptation to one generation is not one to another. It even happens that temptations are not always regarded as something to be resisted.

Youth is well informed and very glib about imparting knowledge to others, embellishing the tale with elaborate accounts of their personal reactions. This makes for interesting discussion which is, thanks to the present standards of rearing our young, not taboo.

Few, if any, topics of conversation are barred by moderns. They are accustomed to socialize the baldest facts in print and to discussion of topics which in previous generations would not have been generally taken up, even among the most sophisticated.

Beauty Tips The Amateur Maker of Candy Should Not Be Too Ambitious

By JUDITH WILSON

WHILE it is impossible for the amateur candymaker to turn out very fancy candies, it is possible for them to make certain types successfully if they follow a few suggestions. The recipes for the candies given in yesterday's column are not difficult for the beginner and the fondant can be varied almost indefinitely.

Here are just a few suggestions for goodies made from fondant: Coconut Fluffs

Flavor a portion of the candy with vanilla and work into it as much coconut as possible. Pull into small pieces, leaving the edges ragged. If you wish a little melted chocolate can be worked into some of the coconut candies.

Fruit and Nut Rolls

Flavor a portion of fondant with almond extract and knead into it a mixture of finely chopped candied cherries, orange peel, chopped candied pineapple, dried apricots, dates, prunes, raisins or any favorite combination. Mold into a roll and cover with finely chopped nuts. Cut into slices.

Neapolitan Blocks

Divide a portion of fondant into three pieces. Leave one portion white and flavor it with vanilla. To a second portion add a little fruit flavoring and enough red color to make a delicate pink. And to the third portion add a little melted chocolate or cocoa and mix thoroughly. Put the portions together in well flattened layers and press firmly. Cut into small rectangular blocks.

Fruit Flavored Candy

Fruit flavoring can be added to some of the fondant and the candy molded into a long, thin, patty shape and garnished with nut meats or strips of candied cherries. Some may like chocolate dipped and some use as filling for stoned dates or steamed prunes from which the pits have been removed.

Nougat

This candy is seldom made at home since it is thought to be difficult. The beginning candymaker should have no trouble, however, and the candy is so delicious that the trouble is worthwhile. Mix one cup sugar, one-half cup water and one and one-half tablespoons corn syrup and bring slowly to a boil, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Boil slowly until the temperature reaches 290 degrees F.

Beat two egg whites until stiff and dry. Pour the hot syrup into the egg whites, beating constantly. Just before adding the syrup mix one-half cup strained honey and one and one-half tablespoons corn syrup and cook to 230 degrees F. immediately to the candy mixture, pouring gradually and beating constantly. Add two cups blanched, chopped almonds and one-half cup blanched pistachios. Set over hot water and stir a small amount of the mixture when cooled is not sticky to touch. Beat, add one teaspoon vanilla and pour into a slightly greased pan. Cut into rectangles and wrap immediately in a heavy waxed paper.

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: "I have just received an announcement of the second marriage of an old friend. She was a divorcee before her present marriage. Shall I send her a wedding gift this time? I gave her a very handsome gift the first time she was married, some six years ago.—Mrs. D.F.T."

ANSWER: Brides of second weddings do not look for gifts from their friends. If you really would like to send a gift, it is another matter, of course, and, to be appreciated by your old friend.

QUESTION: "At a dinner recently the hostess instead of serving salted nuts in individual dishes had a large dish of salted nuts passed. Was this correct? How should the guest have helped himself?—B. D."

ANSWER: Either way of serving salted nuts is correct. When a dish of nuts is passed, the guest helps himself to several and puts them on the cloth beside his plate.

QUESTION: "In writing to a certain friend, I always hesitate when it comes to addressing the envelope. Four months ago her husband died, and I do not know whether to address her by her husband's Christian name or by her own.—C. F."

ANSWER: She should be addressed by her husband's Christian name or names, as "Mrs. John Joseph Smith" and not as "Mrs. Mary Jane Smith."

QUESTION: "I have just received an announcement of the second marriage of an old friend. She was a divorcee before her present marriage. Shall I send her a wedding gift this time? I gave her a very handsome gift the first time she was married, some six years ago.—Mrs. D.F.T."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out one pound of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If it fails to do this, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. Just don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name "Carter's Little Liver Pills" on the red label. Refuse a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

attempt of Karpis and Campbell to enter or leave.

Inspector William Collins headed the Detroit search with 27 automobiles at his disposal loaded with five machine guns and 187 shot guns.

ORDERED TO SHOOT

"Shoot first and then ask questions," Inspector Collins instructed the officers.

William Larsen, chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice here, led the search in Monroe.

A systematic search was being made of all summer cottages on Lake Erie between Monroe and Toledo.

FIND PRINTS

A number of fingerprints were found on the abandoned car by Sergeant Arlo Barber of the State police. None compared with those of Karpis, he reported. Campbell's fingerprints were sent to Monroe for comparison.

Sheriff Barley said the car apparently had been driven fast and hard. The fenders underneath, he said, were so encrusted with ice that the wheels had little clearance.

REVOLT PLOT IS SUPPRESSED BY KING BORIS

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 22.—UP—King Boris III today swiftly reasserted the authority of the crown in Bulgaria in a bloodless royal putsch which overthrew the government of Premier Kimon Georgieff and set up a new ministry loyal to the throne.

He named General Petko Zlateff premier and "accepted" Georgieff's resignation. General Zlateff immediately organized a cabinet, excluding all Republicans or leaders sympathetic toward a democracy.

The United Press learned details of the coup from a high personage, who revealed the Republicans had plotted to retain Boris as a "puppet monarch" until enough of the younger army officers had been won over to the Republican cause.

The King then was to have been confronted with the alternatives of death or abdication.

He met their plot with a counter move which surprised his enemies. The older officers rallied to the king's standard.

Boris and his loyal subjects struck when Premier Georgieff and his semi-Fascist ministers were embarrassed by failure to obtain approval in the League of Nations of their demand for reduction in Bulgaria's foreign debt service, to relieve the heavily burdened taxpayers at home.

General Zlateff was minister of war in the old cabinet. He has powerful influence in the army, whose support is essential for a stable monarchy.

The ousted Georgieff government rose to power as a semi-Fascist dictatorship in a military coup d'etat last May, at a time Bulgaria was torn by internal political dissension. Communist activity and republicanism.

The monarchy has been more or less in the balance in the interim and had feared for months that the country might be swung to democracy should a sufficiently strong Republican leader arise.

MADE FLIGHT
It was recalled, however, that Lindbergh has made one flight to the Orient and that his popularity with Oriental government and aviation officials would be of very great value in publicizing the service to Asiatic people.

Tripp said the first flight would be made by the giant Sikorsky flying boat on which crews now are being trained out of Miami, Fla. The ship, similar to the Brazilian clipper used between New York and South America, will fly to California from Miami within two or three weeks.

Attending physicians declared he was suffering from malnutrition. He was given a good meal and sent home.

protest to get beyond the protest stage with their amendments.

REVOLT STARTED

The revolt began in the House rules committee yesterday, initiated by Congressmen who dislike granting carte blanche to the President to spend the large fund wherever he thinks best. The rules committee, charged with reporting the gag rule so that curbing could be prevented, broke up without action, delaying consideration until Wednesday at the earliest.

Today the committee, under a White House ultimatum delivered at a conference between the President, Speaker Byrns, and Chairman James Buchanan of the appropriations committee, approved the rule by a party vote of 10 to 4 but on condition that a Democratic caucus be called to decide the issue. Representative Martin Dies, Democrat, Texas, one of the insurgents, voted with the majority only on this condition.

NEW QUESTION

Byrns revealed that the question who would administer the fund has been discussed at the White House conference. He understood the President may not name one man to administer the program, but may handle it "through existing agencies."

"It is impossible to name specific projects in this bill," Byrns said. "You can't allocate so much to this and that. Who knows which project will take the most people off relief rolls? That will have to be determined by a survey."

Red Cross Will School People In Relief Work

Red Cross chapter workers recently elected to their position, or those who desire special advanced training in various phases of the welfare and health programs, will have opportunity to attend a series of Chapter Workers' Institutes in California cities. A. L. Schafer, Red Cross manager in the Pacific area, announced.

The first of the series will be held in San Francisco, February 4-8, second in Pasadena, March 4-8, third in Ventura, March 25-29, and the fourth in Santa Ana, April 22-26.

The Red Cross Institute sessions cover five days, Monday through Friday. Certificates of attendance and proficiency will be issued to chapter workers who satisfactorily complete the week's work.

Special emphasis will be made at this time on family case work, such as is required in disaster relief, home service and unemployment relief programs.

Stress also will be placed on disaster preparedness, claims work for Veterans and the several special volunteer services, such as the production of garments, hospital bandages, emergency closets with sick-room supplies, and the brailing of books for the blind.

Red Cross nursing service, home hygiene and care of the sick, public health nursing, first aid and life-saving and junior Red Cross programs will receive attention in addition to chapter organization and chapter administration.

The faculty of expert instructors will be headed by Mr. Schafer, who served the National Red Cross as director of disaster relief before coming to the Pacific area, as manager.

HAUPTMANN TO TESTIFY ON THURSDAY

a green sedan with a ladder in the back seat.

DRESSED IN GRAY

All three of them say the man they saw was dressed in gray. That down over his eyes came the brim of a gray felt hat. Even this man's face was gray, they say, and old man Hochmuth thought he "looked like a man who had seen a ghost."

Those must have been grim meetings in the gray witness of February and March. No words were traded, and people usually speak at such lonely encounters. Even when Rossiter asked the man in gray if he wanted help in getting his automobile out of the ditch, the reply came in the form of a slow side to side motion of the head.

LADDER SHOWN

The ground work for Koehler's testimony was laid today when the prosecution got the rude ladder, which rested against the courtroom wall, admitted as evidence. The defense bitterly contended that police had taken the ladder apart in the course of their investigations. Justice Thomas W. Trenchard ruled that the ladder should be admitted as evidence, which means that the court now concedes that this particular ladder was the one placed against the wall of the Lindbergh home on the night of the kidnapping.

Near the end of today's session the state began to try to prove that it could trace the lumber used in the ladder to Hauptmann. One witness testified that on December 29, 1931—about two months before the kidnapping—Hauptmann purchased $9.32 cents worth of lumber from the Great National Millwork & Lumber Company in the Bronx.

STATE TO REST

Another witness said that he had shipped the lumber from South Carolina to the Bronx firm. Then Max Rappach, Hauptmann's landlord, swore that a piece of wood had been ripped out of the Hauptmann attic. The state will attempt to prove that Hauptmann used that wood in building the ladder.

If the state rests its case tomorrow, Hauptmann probably will go to the stand Thursday as his own first witness.

Youths Nabbed On Bogus Bill Passing Charge

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 22.—UP—Four Fresno boys, ranging in age from 13 to 15 years, were reported arrested by U. S. Secret Service agents here today after assertedly passing $220 in counterfeit $10 bills.

The ringleader of the group is said to be a 13 year old youth who stole his father's auto, in which the quartet drove to the bay region. Officers were said to have traced them to the bay region by a trail of spurious currency passed on their trip from the valley city.

When arrested, the youths were said to have $178 in good money in their possession. Thomas B. Foster, U. S. secret service chief, said the good money was change the boys had received after passing the counterfeit bills.

Defendant Is Given Verdict In Crash Suit

MARTINEZ, Jan. 22.—A jury verdict in favor of the defendant today had been given in the $15,897 automobile collision injury suit filed by Joe Borges against the Pacific Greyhound Lines Inc., and Claude L. Holland.

The action was given to the jury following trial of several days in Superior Judge Thomas D. Johnston's court.

Borges had claimed that he suffered fracture of two ribs and injured his ankle in an automobile collision September 16, 1934, at the intersection of Bay View Avenue and San Pablo Avenue, El Cerrito.
